BUSINESS INFORMATION SHEET

About Us

At Stat Consul, we are professional consultants with 25 years of experience in dissertation-writing, providing tailor-made services in quantitative and mixed-methods research. With our expertise and experience in the field, we now stand tall with an unparalleled track record of a few thousand dissertations, out of which more than 95% achieved distinctions at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels. We strictly adhere to all research ethics requirements, and assure you that we operate in full confidentiality, respecting all academic norms.

Dissertation-Writing Services

In line with the requirements of most tertiary educational institutions worldwide, we offer the following dissertation-writing services:

1. Introduction
2. Literature Review
3. Questionnaire Design
4. Research Methodology
5. Quantitative and Qualitative Data Analysis
6. Discussion of Findings and Linking up with Literature Review
7. Conclusion and Recommendations
8. Referencing and Formatting

Primary Data Collection

Owing to ongoing post-COVID-19 health protocols in Mauritius, we do not employ or provide field workers to conduct surveys or interviews. Therefore, once your questionnaire(s) has/have been approved by your academic supervisor, the onus is on you to gather your data.

There are two options for quantitative data entry:

1. For hard-copy questionnaires, we can send you an email with clear instructions, together with a Microsoft Excel spreadsheet, so that you enter the data yourself. Once filled, you mail us back the Excel sheet and we will export your data to SPSS for analysis purposes.
2. You give us your hard-copy questionnaires and we enter the data on IBM SPSS Statistics directly, but that will incur additional costs, depending on the number of questionnaires.

Therefore, we always encourage you to enter the data yourself - it saves you money and saves us time.

If you decide to collect your data using an online questionnaire (e.g., on Google Forms), the question of data entry does not arise, since responses may readily be downloaded in Excel format. Should you ask us to set up the questionnaire online, this will incur a minimal additional fee.

For qualitative data obtained via interviews or focus group discussions, you are requested to compile them in MS Word or MS Excel, and mail us the file. We will then take care of analysing your responses and synthesising your findings.

Formatting and Referencing

Though often overlooked by students, formatting and referencing are an essential and integral part of a dissertation. If you provide us with your university's specifications right from the start, we will adhere to the required format (e.g., font size, line-spacing, margin, referencing style, etc.)

However, items like Abstract, Table of Contents, Table of Figures, List of Acronyms, etc. will be charged separately.

Amendments

- Our packages also include making amendments to each chapter only once, based on supervisors' feedback. Unfortunately, we have been forced to include this clause, given that students and clients tend to make an abuse of it, by continuously getting feedback from their supervisors and asking us to make corrections/amendments several times, free of charge.
- It may also happen that you have already written a full chapter or part of a chapter that needs refinement. You will be charged according to the required amendments.
- In the event that you submit our written chapters to the Turnitin software, and your Similarity Report returns a percentage that is higher than that required by your university, kindly notify us. We will make the changes to bring your percentage below the required threshold.

Preparation for Viva Voce

At Stat Consul, we also prepare you for your viva voce (or viva) with confidence. We help you master every section of your dissertation and overcome stage fright. Excellent presentation skills and anticipating the questions from examiners are key to passing your viva with flying colours. We offer to prepare your Power Point presentation to tackle every required aspect of your dissertation, as specified by your institution.

Modalities of Payment

Once you decide to hire our services, we will communicate the price of the package that is tailor-made for your needs, as well as all other related information.

Kindly note that our work is comprehensive and of the highest quality. While respecting deadlines, we work in complete confidentiality and we take professional ethics very seriously. We would like to point out that, to date, more than 95% of our previous clients have achieved distinctions in their dissertations, whenever they chose a complete package from us. However, we cannot always guarantee such an achievement, because academic results depend solely on the appreciation of academic supervisors and external examiners.
